

How do you know what you're doing is working?

A business called us for help when they had a problem and needed a new approach.

THE PROBLEM

The business had grown quickly, but the health and safety arrangements hadn't grown with it. A serious accident highlighted a number of issues which needed to be addressed quickly.

An audit found a lack of risk assessments, training and general health and safety arrangements.

We identified a need for a new health and safety approach that was modern, agile and would continue to grow with the business.

We engaged Orchard Safety Ltd. to review and overhaul our health and safety management system.

Sam and the team at Orchard Safety Ltd. have certainly delivered! They have taken the time to get to know the business and the culture we're trying to achieve. They have engaged with our staff and have scoped out and delivered a management system that is simple and effective.

I would highly recommend Orchard Safety to anyone looking for a fresh approach to health and safety support and advice.

THE SOLUTION

A gap analysis highlighted very quickly the gaps that needed to be addressed.

We developed a user friendly management system, removing clutter providing no value.

Simplified the risk assessments process, removing those that were providing no value.

Delivered risk assessment and safety leadership workshops to create the foundation for a more proactive approach to safety.

Provided tools and resources to help manage safety risks moving forward.

BENEFITS

An agile management system that can now grow with the business - saving money, time and effort in the future.

Confidence the health and safety arrangements now protect the business.

A user friendly management system that is easier for employees to use - helping with engagement and involvement.

Employees involved in the risk assessment process, empowering those doing the work.

A fresh new approach to safety that's not just about tick boxes and has provided a positive impact on safety performance.
