Safewell have been supporting Good Fabrications Limited for several years. Their advice and support has been instrumental in helping us successfully review and improve our H&S standards.

Whenever we have needed them, and whatever the situation, the team at Safewell have been there to help, whether on the phone, via email or on site at short notice. I cannot praise their professionalism and commitment enough and would wholeheartedly recommend them to others.

I'm really happy with the service provided by Safewell. Our adviser is very knowledgeable and helpful. She has helped us to roll out H&S Handbooks to staff and rewrite our H&S policies. She has also supported us with capital works, by providing essential building standards information for the tender documents. She is a fresh pair of eyes on our site and has made several observations that have helped us to improve security and fire safety at our school.

Having previously worked with Nick and the team at Safewell for 5 years, I cannot recommend their services enough.

They have assisted with the planning and delivery of multiple policies, processes and procedures to a retail estate of circa 130 sites, and also provided invaluable support in the ongoing management of all aspects of H&S.

The enthusiasm for H&S throughout Safewell is clear with all advice given being clear, concise and practical.

I have no doubt that we will work together in future.
