

COMPANY CASE STUDY

Understanding and complying with legal requirements and industry standards

AT A GLANCE

Challenges

- New growing business
- Limited resources
- Niche market
- Minimal existing management system

Benefits

- Employment of a competent H&S advisor
- Development of a H&S management system
- Adoption of effective business risk management tools

"Melissa has helped us develop and understand our health and safety and quality management system.

She provides support and guidance when we need it most."

Jake Rimmer

Managing Director
LJR Group Ltd

OBJECTIVES

LJR group had a very limited management system in place as a new business with the need for competent health and safety support under the Management of Health and Safety at Work Regulations 1999.

As part of the business growth LJR wanted to achieve ISO 9001 certification with a view to working towards achieving ISO 14001 and ISO 45001.

SOLUTIONS

Development of a simple, bespoke, health and safety management system to support the business needs whilst developing an ISO 9001 compliant quality management system.

Periodic meetings with the management team to ensure appropriate and relevant risks were being considered throughout whilst maintaining compliance with the ISO standards.

Ongoing health and safety and ISO support for this client to support their business growth strategy whilst managing legislative compliance.

BENEFITS

Development of Business Management Tools

Fully embracing the journey LJR have been open to exploring new tools and methods of risk management that support their strategic growth.

Stakeholder Satisfaction

Clients are satisfied that the business are managing their risk profile appropriately and that competence advice is being sought to support on both an operational and strategic level.