Introduction

Safety Management Limited provides a hands on common sense professional approach, delivered by competent, qualified and highly experienced health and safety professionals.

We show you how to comply with health and safety legislation, and achieve best practice standards, with the minimum of fuss, leaving more time for your management team.

We take all the hard work out of complying with health and safety law

We can:

- review your current health and safety arrangements
- write risk assessments
- develop policies, and Health and Safety Management Systems
- train your employees
- provide noise surveys and air monitoring
- provide statutory LEV testing
- support you in the event of an incident

Safety Management has the right people to give you the right level of support, when you need it, to meet your company's individual, and often unique, health and safety requirements.

We pride ourselves on providing a high-quality service and delivering customer satisfaction - we will do everything we can to meet your expectations.

“Safety Management have been invaluable in assisting with queries and providing professional back-up” Natasha Marriott, Levelux Ltd
