PROFESSIONAL RECOMMENDATION FOR HEALTH AND SAFETY SERVICES

To Whom It May Concern,

I am pleased to provide this professional recommendation for HSEF in recognition of their outstanding health and safety consultancy services within the solar industry. HSEF recently supported Breaking Point Solar, providing expert, proactive health and safety advice while maintaining a clear and pragmatic approach.

Throughout the collaboration, HSEF demonstrated a comprehensive understanding of the unique risks associated with large-scale solar developments. Their ability to anticipate potential hazards, implement effective safety measures, and deliver clear, actionable guidance was invaluable in maintaining a safe and efficient working environment.

What sets HSEF apart is their commitment to straightforward communication and practical solutions. They consistently provided common-sense advice that was easy to implement on-site, ensuring that safety remained a priority without unnecessary complexity or disruption. Their hands-on approach and ability to adapt to evolving project requirements made them a trusted and integral part of our team.

Under the leadership of Managing Director Ryan Malone, HSEF has built a reputation for professionalism, industry expertise, and a proactive approach to health and safety. I highly recommend HSEF to any organisation within the renewable energy sector seeking a knowledgeable and reliable health and safety partner.

Should you require any further details regarding my experience with HSEF, please do not hesitate to contact me at joe@breakingpointsolar.co.uk or +44 7377 548423.

Yours sincerely,

Mr Joseph Cooper
